Professional profile:

I bring a diverse background, particularly in sales, coupled with a strong passion for technology. My objective is to engage in user interface web development, with a future focus on specializing in web3. Complementing my skills, I've initiated learning the Finnish language and possess a quick adaptability to new environments and challenges.

As a brand ambassador and team member, I have developed the necessary skills to motivate leadership and teamwork. I also possess solid organizational and project management capabilities, as well as the ability to handle pressure.

I am enthusiastic about applying my expertise and knowledge within an innovative company, contributing to its thriving success.
